

Client: Mountain Exposure
Media: Telegraph Magazine
Date: 30 January 2010

Food news by Carolyn Hart

HAUTE CUISINE Mountain Exposure, expert in luxury skiing and snowboarding holidays, has inserted a Michelin-starred chef into its flagship Zermatt property the Lodge. Gerry Kirwan, an Irish chef of some renown, can produce gourmet dinners and breakfasts for up to 10 people. That makes it all the more imperative that you don't exit the piste on a bloodwagon as you speed home for chicken and wild mushroom sausage with celeriac purée and white truffle oil, seared turbot on crushed baby potatoes with spring onion or a mussel broth topped with wilted spinach (08454-252001; mountainexposure.com).